The Long Tunnel in Apex Territory

Is Now Under Cover and Will Be Rushed to Early Finish With Power Drills in Motion.

The long tunnel by which the properties of the Utah-Apex company at Bingham are to be undermined for a distance of 3000 feet is now in under cover, and, with the new compressor and machine drills, should make ex-cellent progress. Supt. McCrea, who cellent progress. Supt. McCrea, who was in from camp yesterday, accompanied by another lot of ore from the property, reports an output of nearly 500 tons for September without effort whatever to crowd it until such time as the contract with the smelters shall have been made, while the main been made, while the main now underground is advancing y rock. With the outlook for the Apex Mr. McCrea, who superintended the development of the Commercial group for the Bingham Consolidated, is very much pleased. He has no doubt, indeed, that with developments now in hand it will be as productive as an of the more prominent neighbors and to that end will push the campaign. The quality of ore now coming to mar-ket is among the best of which the camp is capable, and while not a little of the company's territory has been of the company's territory has been prospected, it does not campare with the area that remains untouched. The new tunnel will tap the first of the system of ledges by which the domain is traversed at a point 600 feet from its portal, the others to be intercepted at intervals of several hundred feet. The new compressor plant will be at a sta-tion below the Yampa and on the Par-venue claims, owned by the Utah-Apex.

OUTPUT OF SULPHUR.

Utah and Two Other States Now Furnish the Supply.

The amount of sulphur produced in the United States is but a small percentage of the amount annually consumed. Three States, Louisiana, Nevada and Utah, named in the order of their importance as producers of sulphur, contribute to the domestic output, says a bulletin issued by Director Walcott of the United States geological survey. Their united production for 1802 was 8336 short tons, valued at $220,550. In addition to this, the country consumed 174,925 long tons of imported sulphur. But for the unfortunate fact that there is no duty on imported sulphur, the production from netive deposits might be expected to increase in proportion to the demand. In spite of this disadvantage, however, the domestic industry bids fair to grow.

Continuing, the bulletin says of the Rabbit Hole sulphur is obtained now from open pits, tunnels and underground chambers. It its more beautiful form it occurs as masses of crystals depending from the walls of irregular cavities and incrusting free surfaces. It has the beautiful yellow color of crystalized sulphur, with her and there a readish tinge, due to the presence of a small amount of cinnabar. The most important mass of sulphur is however, of a different type, and has the appearance of having originated in a flow of moiten sulphur which welled up and filled open channels in the rocks, it contains occasional fragments of rocks, but is remarkably pure. Its color is a dark resinous yellow.

DE LA MAR'S NEMESIS.

Retrial of the Case Exciting Much Interest in the West. Considerable interest is manifested

in the reversal of the decree of the Cir-In the reversal of the decree of the Circuit court in the case of the Utah-Nevada Mining company against Joseph R. De La Mar of New York. The decree was reversed recently by the United States Circuit court and will have to be retried in the Circuit court at San Francisco, says the Reno (Nev.) Gazette.

On January 23, 1894, the owners of the Monitor, Monitor No. 2, Monitor Dump, the Princess, the segregated west half of the Cliff, an undivided three-fourths of the Millionaire, an individed sevencients of the Lucky Bar mining claims in the Ferguson district, Lincuin county, Nevada, agreed to seil the same to Samuel T. Godbe, who later transferred, with others, these properties to De La Mar to work. De La Mar was to receive Siper cent of the stock and dividends. In the latter part of the year 1894 De La Mar incorporated the De La Mar Nevada Gold Mining company and transferred these mines to the new company.

It was alleged that De La Mar received over $11,000,000 in profits out of these mines and turned over only $1,352,442. Therefore, the compininants asked for $5,250,500, with interest and costs. cult court in the case of the Utah-Nevada

WILL GO WEST.

Landlord Holmes to Make Examination of Nevada Properties.

Gus Holmes, to whom Utah is indebted for the Knutsford, without reference to his patronage of the diggings, will leave his patronage of the diggings, will leave for Goldfield, Nev., the present month, to make examination of properties that have been commended to him, he having been preceded by his son and an expert representative. During his pilgrimage in the East Mr. Helmes heard many inquiries concerning the mines of Giah, and with the close of the Presidential campaign expects to see the condition of the camps materially enlivened by Eastern investors. In St. Louis he mot President David Keith of the Silver King, who expressed his intention of visiting New York before returning West.

Uncle Sam Dividend.

At the meeting of the directors of the Uncle Sam Mining company during the afternoon the regular dividend of $500 was posted for payment October 21, the transfer books to close on Saturday next. The financial statement submitted by the treasurer reveals a very satisfactory condition and a good surplus will remain after the distribution is made.

Special to The Tribune, Special to The Tribune,
BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 7.—The strength of the past week was continued in the local market today and though some manlpulation is to be seen, yet there is good buying in evidence and each day prices are advancing. It is a market of specialties and the lower-priced stocks were the favorites until yesterday and today, when some of the higher-priced issues were taken hold of and advanced. Sentiment still continues conservativelly bullish among the trading element, and although setbacks are in order, the long side appears to be the favorite at present.

The Utah Copper to Sink a Shaft

Will Drop Down Into Chambers of Wealth Proved Up by a Neighboring Company.

While the management of the Utah Copper company is at present reducing 20,000 tons of low-grade ore to a highgrade copper concentrate, carrying more than enough of the precious metals to pay for the cost of smelting, and piling up earnings that will enable it to pass the plate next season, it has practically decided to drop a shaft down into a source of wealth, the pres-ence which its neighbor, the Ohio Copper company, has been good enough to demonstrate. This source of wealth that the management has refrained from exploiting is within the All's Well ledge that has been opened up by the Ohio company to a point with-ter for fear of the Eigh Copper comin a few feet of the Utah Copper com-pany's end line, and from which fiss-ure the management of the ure the management of the former is now raising ore that yields as much as 30 per cent of the red metal, with some gold and some silver. The ledge, which passes unmistakably through the Utah Copper company's territory, has now been mined to a depth of several hundred feet, and at 300 feet on the incline shows a width of about sixteen feet. To fathom this fissure in its own terri-tery the management of the Copper company will drop down a shaft, and with the revenue from a high grade "shipping ore" added to those from the mill the earnings will have been materially increased. Manager Jackling, who has this work under consideration, left for camp yesterday morning and the order to proceed will probably issue before the close of the month. The company will draw down a check for another lot of concentrates today, while in transit are four more carloads, with the output of the plant now averaging about a car daily.

A PUZZLE TO HIM.

Everything on Goldfield Surface Looks Alike to Miners.

Martin J. Murphy, who left this city a few days ago with Goldfield his destination, writes from that camp that conditions there are a departure from conditions there are a departure from any he has ever seen and for more than thirty years he has been continuously in his digging boots. Superficially there is nothing to indicate that one block is any more meritorious than another. The ore there is, in reality, where you find it, the main channels intersected by fissures, while the en-tire zone appears to be gridironed with ledges. The demand for ground, writes Capt. Murphy, is almost deliri-ous, and while the customer is trying to strike a bargain another in conducton examination and shouting to his rival to "Shoot or lay down the gun." He has made an examination of several locations and expects to have something in hand in short time.

A special from the new camp to the Gazette of Reno. Nev., says: A remarkably rich strike has been made on the Tonopah Club claim, three miles north from Goldfield, at the new Diamondfield camp. In the prospect-ing trench a fourteen-foot ledge of ore has been opened up which assays from $60 to $500 in gold and silver per ton.

560 to $500 in gold and silver per ton.

The formation is shale, an entirely new characteristic for this district.

The property is owned by Henry Weber, Marvin E. Ish, John Hennesy, George Wingfield, J. R. Duffield and Ed Hubbach. The strike is considered the biggest yet made in the Diamond-field district and miners are flocking to the scene in great numbers. the scene in great numbers.

AT INDIAN QUEEN.

Tunnel on Beaver County Property Nearing the Ledge.

Lorin Morrison, who promises to add the Indian Queen in Beaver county to the list of producers before the expiration of the present year, is up from camp again, and from "the street" is receiving most cordial assurances of its esteem. The new tunnel with which he is driving to intercept the big ledge on its dip has now passed the 200-foot station and should make commection in the next 100 feet. Mr. Morrison says beknows precisely what he and his associates are driving for and has no doubt of results.

The campaign at Newhouse, says Mr. Morrison, is one of the most spirited every seen in the mining camps of Utah, and already the camp is beginning to crystalize into the ideal projected by its founder. A cluster of cozy dwellings are going up, while brick and stone for the hotel are arriving, with the park being prettily designed. Work on the properties of the Blackbird Mining company in Copper guith has resumed with a few men while it is the impression at camp that the Imperial will inaugurate its winter campaign in a short time.

steadily improved and that the region throughout is in better condition than ever before.

GOING TO MAMMOTH.

Management and Staff to Break Ground for New Plant.

The breaking of ground for the smel-ter with which the Mammoth group of copper, gold and sliver-bearing mines in Shasta county. California, is to be equipped, and whose stupendous ore boddes were recently added to the resources of the United States Mining company, will begin next week. To inaugurate the work Bert Holden, managing director of the company, will depart for the western camp within the next few hours, accompanied by George H. Fischer, the company's mehcanical engineer and superintendent of construction, and Frederick Lyons, chief engineer on his staff. The campaign of equipment will be rushed and with its completion expert reports indicate that the United States will have added from $50,000 to $1,000,000 per annum to its earnings.

Before returning Mr. Holden will visit the Evans placer mines at Oreville, Cal. copper, gold and sliver-bearing mines in

AT DALY WEST.

Retirement of Miners in Quincy Ground All for Its Good.

Commenting on the withdrawal of the forces from the upper workings on the Quincy ledge, Daly West territory, Vice-President Wood said yesterday that it was positively without signifi-cance other than that the management had decided to suspend production from that source until connection is made through an avenue now advancing from Daly West workings proper. This will overcome the expense of hoisting and hauling the output from the Quincy ledge around the hill, which items have constituted, heretofore, no small figure in the expense account. Ernest Bamberger, assistant general manager of the properties, left for camp yesterday morning to confer with Supt McCaskell, who is one of the most experienced men that have ever had charge of the campaign under ground,
